Ethnic Literature

Students in this course will read and discuss literary works from American writers of different racial and ethnic groups. These literary works will allow us to discover an appreciation for what different individuals and groups can teach us about the American and human experience.