How do writers and filmmakers depict images of the Holocaust? How do differences in fiction, memoirs, non-fiction, and film affect the meaning of Holocaust literature? The course will discuss these and other questions about language and trauma, literature and genocide, and storytelling with respect to the Holocaust.